Executive summary

The FY2027 Annual Operating Plan sets a ~$880M net-revenue target (planning) — roughly +7% on the FY25 $812M base — and starts the margin climb to the 16%-by-FY28 commitment. The plan is built top-down from the growth thesis (protein, oat milk, Crunchwell stabilization) and bottom-up from each brand, funded by a rationalized trade envelope and an A&P; mix that shifts toward the pockets that are actually growing.

- Top line: ~$880M net revenue (planning), led by ProteinPeak (~$100M) and a stabilized Crunchwell (~$318M).
- Margin: EBITDA to ~15.0% in FY27 en route to 16% in FY28, via revenue growth management and trade efficiency, not volume-chasing.
- Trade: hold the envelope near $150M but shift dollars from low-incrementality Crunchwell events (0.57) toward higher-return mechanics (Report 27 / 17).
- A&P;: ~$95M, tilting from Crunchwell linear TV toward protein, creator, and retail media where incrementality is proven.

1 · Top-down targets

NET REVENUE	GROWTH	EBITDA MARGIN	TRADE	A&P;
~$880M	+~7%	~15.0%	~$150M	~$95M
planning target	on FY25 base	→ 16% FY28	rationalized	mix shift

Leadership's FY27 North Star: grow net revenue mid-single-digits while beginning the margin expansion. The number is deliberately not built on the slow core alone — it requires the protein and oat-milk adjacencies to carry disproportionate growth while Crunchwell stops the bleeding.

2 · Bottom-up brand build

Brand	FY25 actual	FY27 target	Growth	Portfolio role
Crunchwell	$312M	$318M	+2%	Stabilize / fix relevance
ProteinPeak	$48M	$100M	+108%	Grow aggressively
TrailGrove	$152M	$162M	+7%	Grow steadily
MorningOats	$87M	$92M	+6%	Grow single-serve
HoneyNest	$94M	$92M	-2%	Defend / prune
RootDay	$62M	$74M	+19%	Ride oat milk
Six brands	$755M	$838M	+11%	+ adjacencies to ~$880M

Brand net revenue: FY25 actual vs FY27 target ($M)

The growth is loaded onto ProteinPeak (+108%) and protected on Crunchwell; the middle holds.

3 · Investment envelopes

3.1 · Trade (~$150M)

FY25 trade was ~$146M, with Crunchwell alone at $92M and a portfolio incrementality index of ~0.52. FY27 holds the envelope near $150M but rebalances it toward incrementality: fewer deep, forward-buy-heavy Crunchwell events, more high-return mechanics and protein support. The revenue growth management plan (Report 17) and the trade post-event analysis (Report 27) drive the reallocation.

3.2 · A&P; / working media (~$95M)

A&P; shifts with the growth. Crunchwell's linear-TV weight comes down at the margin; protein, creator, and retail-media investment goes up where incrementality is proven (Walmart Connect 1.20, Kroger 0.77) and away from where it is not (Amazon Ads 0.40). The media effectiveness review (Report 28) is the basis.

4 · Assumptions, phasing & risks

- Phasing: H1-weighted innovation (Crunchwell Pack Refresh carrying from Aug 2026; ProteinPeak Chocolate Almond in Q3 FY26); protein and BTS programs front-loaded.
- Category assumptions: RTE +1–1.5%, Wellness Protein +15–18%, oat milk +15%+, Kids Sweet –2–3%.
- Macro risk: GLP-1 appetite shift as a slow volume drag; private-label strength; commodity/input cost on the margin path.
- Competitive risk: Field & Honey pressing both protein and family-sweet.

Plan integrity

The FY27 AOP is the one-year expression of the FY27–FY29 long-range plan (Report 15). It is consistent with the H2 FY26 reforecast (Report 40) and the brand-level annual plans (Reports 18–24). Trade and A&P; envelopes are directional planning numbers pending final board approval.

Recommendations & next steps

#	Action	Owner	When
1	Approve the ~$880M net-revenue target and ~15.0% EBITDA margin for FY27.	Board / CFO	AOP sign-off
2	Lock the trade (~$150M) and A&P; (~$95M) envelopes with the rationalization rules.	CFO / RGM	AOP sign-off
3	Cascade brand targets into the FY27 brand plans and retailer JBPs (Reports 35–38).	Sales / Brand	Q3 FY26
