

TrailGrove — FY27 Annual Brand Plan

Acme's healthy portfolio anchor: extend a $152M granola/bars franchise into the growth pockets

Document type Annual brand plan
Period FY2027
Owner Brand Manager — TrailGrove
Prepared July 2026

|                          |                                                   |
|--------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| Brand net revenue (FY25) | $152M — Acme's #2 brand                          |
| Granola segment          | $1.88B, +3.3% — healthy grower                   |
| Bar segment              | $2.96B, +2.1% — steady                           |
| FY26 run-rate vs plan    | -1.7% (on plan)                                   |
| FY27 posture             | Extend into growth: bites, Hispanic, single-serve |

Executive summary

TrailGrove is Acme's second-largest brand ($152M FY25) and its healthiest — a granola and bars franchise sitting in growing, on-trend segments. Granola grew +3.3% in FY25 to $1.88B, where Acme holds a category-leading ~8.6% share; Granola Bars are a large, steady $2.96B segment (+2.1%). TrailGrove is on plan (-1.7% in Q1 FY26). Unlike the defend-oriented plans elsewhere in the portfolio, TrailGrove's FY27 job is offence: extend the franchise into the growth pockets — yogurt-coated snacking bites, a Hispanic trail-mix format, and single-serve granola cups — and position the brand explicitly as Acme's healthy / active-lifestyle portfolio anchor.

- Healthy, growing segments: Granola +3.3% ($1.88B, ~8.6% Acme share); Granola Bars steady at +2.1%. This is a brand that gets to play offence.
- On plan: Q1 FY26 net revenue $37.5M vs $38.1M plan (-1.7%). Solid base to build on.
- Extend into snacking: TrailGrove Bites Yogurt-Coated (Stage-2, $3.6M, 2027-Q2 planning estimate) enters the kid-lunchbox snacking occasion KIND owns with Bites.
- Reach & convenience: a Hispanic Trail Mix Mango-Chile format ($2.4M, companion to the portfolio Hispanic strategy) plus single-serve granola cups extend the franchise into growing formats.

1 · A healthy brand in growing segments

| BRAND NET REVENUE | GRANOLA SEGMENT  | GRANOLA BARS    | FY26 VS PLAN | ACTIVE-LIFESTYLE FIT |
|-------------------|------------------|-----------------|--------------|----------------------|
| $152M     | +3.3%     | +2.1%    | -1.7% | Anchor        |
| FY25, #2 brand    | ~8.6% Acme share | $2.96B, steady | on plan      | healthy portfolio    |

TrailGrove's position is enviable: it leads a growing category. Acme holds ~8.6% of Granola — its highest share in any segment — and granola is growing steadily on the back of a clean-ingredient, real-food consumer trend. Granola Bars add a large, stable base. That combination means the FY27 plan can be built around extension and reach rather than defence. The brand's role in the portfolio is to be the healthy / active anchor — the credible answer to a wellness-oriented shopper across granola, bars and snacking formats.

Granola +3.3%, bars +2.1% steady, granola single-serve +8.4% — all growing. TrailGrove plays in healthy, on-trend pockets.

Source: category_market_size.csv (NielsenIQ-shape), Granola & Bar segments, FY24–FY25.

2 · Franchise health & the case for offence

TrailGrove's ten SKUs span three formats — granola pouches (the core, led by Honey Almond at 68% ACV), granola bars (Honey Almond, PB Chocolate, Mixed Berry), and a trail-mix entry. The portfolio is broad, premium-priced, and healthy in a market that increasingly rewards exactly that. Sitting on-plan (-1.7%) in growing segments is the strongest position in the brand book — it earns the right to invest for extension. The FY27 thesis: take the brand's healthy credibility into three adjacent growth pockets rather than deepen an already-strong core.

The addressable pools: a ~$1.9B granola segment and a ~$3.0B granola-bar segment, with growing clusters and single-serve pockets to extend into.

Position: the healthy / active portfolio anchor

Where Crunchwell is the trusted flagship and ProteinPeak the wellness-protein growth engine, TrailGrove is the everyday healthy anchor — granola, bars, and snacking for the active, clean-label shopper. FY27 investment should reinforce that role, not dilute it.

3 · FY27 innovation plan — extend into growth

3.1 · TrailGrove Bites Yogurt-Coated — the snacking extension

TrailGrove Bites Yogurt-Coated (Stage-2 Concept, $3.6M year-one planning estimate, confidence 0.48, planned 2027-Q2) is the headline FY27 extension: entering the kid-lunchbox snacking occasion that KIND currently owns with its Bites line. It carries TrailGrove's healthy credibility into a high-frequency snacking format and is the largest new-revenue opportunity in the FY27 slate.

3.2 · Hispanic Mango-Chile & single-serve cups — reach and convenience

Two further moves extend reach and format. The Hispanic Trail Mix Mango-Chile format (Stage-2 Concept, $2.4M year-one planning estimate, confidence 0.34, 2027-Q2) is the companion to the portfolio's Hispanic strategy (alongside Crunchwell Maiz Crunch). Single-serve granola cups (Stage-2 Concept, $2.9M planning estimate) take the granola franchise into the growing convenience format. Both are early-stage concepts; FY27 funds concept validation and screening, not committed launches. FY27+ revenue figures are planning estimates.

Innovation slate — FY27

| Concept                          | Stage           | Yr-1 (plan) | Conf. | Launch         |
|----------------------------------|-----------------|-------------|-------|----------------|
| TrailGrove Bites — Yogurt-Coated | Stage-2 Concept | $3.6M      | 0.48  | 2027-Q2 (plan) |
| Trail Mix Mango-Chile (Hispanic) | Stage-2 Concept | $2.4M      | 0.34  | 2027-Q2 (plan) |
| Granola Single-Serve Cups        | Stage-2 Concept | $2.9M      | 0.36  | 2027-Q4 (plan) |

Source: innovation_pipeline.csv (INV009, INV014, INV021). Year-1 revenue & FY27 launch = planning estimates.

4 · The FY27 plan — targets & phasing

TrailGrove is the one brand in this planning cycle with an unambiguous growth target. FY27 aims for low-single-digit net-revenue growth, share held-to-gained in Granola, and three extension concepts advanced through their stage gates. All FY27 figures are targets / planning estimates.

| Metric                            | FY26 (est. actual) | FY27 (target) | Note                         |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------|---------------|------------------------------|
| Net revenue                       | ~$150M            | ~$155–158M   | Low-single-digit growth      |
| Granola share                     | ~8.6%              | Hold / gain   | Category-leading position    |
| Extension concepts live/advancing | —                  | 3             | Bites, Hispanic, SS cups     |
| Portfolio role                    | Healthy anchor     | Reinforce     | Active-lifestyle positioning |

Source: plan_vs_actual (FY26 run-rate); category_market_size.csv; innovation_pipeline.csv. FY27 = targets/plan.

Plan phasing — FY27

| Quarter           | Focus                                                                     |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Q4 FY26 → FY27 Q1 | Advance Bites Yogurt-Coated & Mango-Chile through Stage-2 validation      |
| FY27 H1           | Bites launch prep; grow core granola & bar distribution                   |
| FY27 Q2           | TrailGrove Bites + Mango-Chile launch (planning target)                   |
| FY27 H2           | Single-serve granola cups screening; reinforce healthy-anchor positioning |

Watch-item — concept confidence is still low

The FY27 extensions are Stage-2 with modest confidence scores (0.34–0.48). They are options to be validated, not committed launches. Gate spend on stage-gate reads; protect the healthy, on-plan core regardless of how the extensions test.

Recommendations & next steps

| # | Action                                                                                             | Owner                      | When    |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|---------|
| 1 | Advance TrailGrove Bites Yogurt-Coated through Stage-2; treat it as the priority FY27 extension.   | Brand Manager — TrailGrove | FY27 H1 |
| 2 | Progress the Hispanic Mango-Chile format as the companion to the portfolio Hispanic strategy.      | Lillian Park               | FY27 H1 |
| 3 | Validate single-serve granola cups; extend the franchise into the growing convenience format.      | Lillian Park               | FY27 H2 |
| 4 | Deliver low-single-digit growth and reinforce TrailGrove as the healthy / active portfolio anchor. | Brand Manager / Finance    | FY27    |